

JND LEGAL ADMINISTRATION APPOINTS TOM HOFFMAN AS SENIOR CONSULTANT FOR CLASS ACTION AND MASS TORT ADMINISTRATION SERVICES

SEATTLE and LOS ANGELES —JND Legal Administration, a premier legal management and administration company headquartered in Seattle, has appointed Tom Hoffman as a senior consultant for the firm’s class action and mass tort administration services division. Based in the company’s Los Angeles office, Tom consults with clients across the country to serve the administrative needs of their class action and mass tort legal proceedings. He also leads business development initiatives to further the expansion of JND Legal Administration throughout California and the West Coast region.

“As JND Legal Administration continues its growth into new markets, we are delighted to have Tom Hoffman as a member of our expanding team to help accelerate this growth,” said David Isaac, executive co-chairman and founder of JND Legal Administration. “He brings broad experience and keen business development skills to his new role that will be invaluable to the firm and its clients.”

Previously, Tom served as senior vice president of business development for a boutique legal administration firm where he successfully established the company’s client base while overseeing its growth across numerous markets. Prior to his work within the legal administration profession, Tom was an accomplished executive in the entertainment industry. He began his career developing and producing feature films and later transitioned into high-level executive roles where he held positions at multiple studios, including Paramount and Walt Disney Pictures. Tom gained expertise in business expansion and client management by bringing many blockbuster films to the market.

Tom earned his Master of Fine Arts degree from USC School of Cinematic Arts and his Bachelor of Arts degree from Brandeis University.
