

Matthew Potter Joins JND Legal Administration as Senior Strategic Advisor

SEATTLE, September 12, 2018—JND Legal Administration, a legal management and administration company serving law firms, companies and government entities, has appointed Matthew Potter as a senior strategic advisor. In this new role, Matthew will be responsible for driving the company’s business development initiatives, sales and marketing strategy, and client relationship management.

“We’re delighted to have Matthew joining the JND team as the company positions itself for future growth,” commented Neil Zola, executive co-chairman and co-founder at JND Legal Administration. “His expertise will be invaluable to meeting our clients evolving legal administrative support needs and to furthering our business development objectives.”

Matthew brings nearly 20 years of experience and expertise to the design, implementation and management of complex and time-sensitive client matters, including class action settlements, regulatory agency enforcement actions and urgent communications initiatives such as data breach responses.

Prior to joining JND, Matthew held a number of executive positions, including president and executive vice-president, at a leading legal consulting and administrative services firm with a particular focus on large, complex antitrust and regulatory settlements. During his 17-year tenure there, he was instrumental in developing a profitable new practice area within the company for government agencies with regulated settlements with total distribution in excess of $1.5 billion and was accountable for more than 500 class action settlements.

Earlier in his career, Matthew was a CPA and served as a senior accountant in the Minneapolis office of Grant Thornton LLP. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Minnesota State University, Mankato.
